MACROECONOMY

Indonesia Eyes 5% Growth After US Tariff Cut

The Indonesian govt. expects economic growth to return to around 5% in 2H25 after the US reduced tariffs on Indonesian goods from 32% to 19%, the lowest in Southeast Asia. This, along with expanded EU trade ties, is seen as a chance to boost exports and investment. However, Institute for Development of Economics and Finance (Indef) warns the lower tariffs may instead reduce GDP by 0.11% due to increased US imports into Indonesia. (Bloomberg Technoz)
